If I could turn back time, I'd give it all to You, Lord
I'd walk step by step down a different path than before
Spend a little less time walking away, spend a little more time on my knees
Praying myself through, getting closer to You
If I could turn back time, If I could turn back time

If I could change who I was, leave words left unsaid
Maybe mend a few fences, leave more than just regrets
I'd soften my heart, shed a tear or two, say a few more I love yous
Let a little light shine through
If I could change who I was, If I could change who I was

If it's not too late would You take this mess I've made of myself
And fix what's left
Not much to offer up to You, just a broken heart and a dream or two
Lord it's back to me and You
If I could turn back time, If I could turn back time

While I still have the time, help me change who I've been for so long
I'm gonna be a witness, to the ones I did so wrong
I'm laying down my pride, Lord let it be
That Christ is all the world can see More of You, less of me
While I still have the time, While I still have the time
